

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

FACTORY INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

Harrisburg, Pa., November 30, 1900.

To the Hon. William A. Stone, Governor of the Commonwealth:

In compliance with the Act of the General Assembly, I submit the eleventh annual report of the Department of Factory Inspection for the year ending October 31st, 1900. This has been the most prosperous year since the organization of the Department. Many of the old establishments have enlarged their plants, and new enterprises have been started in almost every section of the State, as shown by the statistical part of the report.

Employment of Children.

The Act, creating the Department of Factory Inspection, was passed in 1889. Children could be employed from 12 to 16 years of age, providing they had certificates from their parents or guardian, as to their age, etc. The law provided that places employing less than ten minors or ten women, were not amenable to the law. The first year's report of the Department, ending October, 1890, showed 297,719 people employed. Of that number, 30,437 were between 12 and 16 years of age, or over 10 per cent. of the total number of employes were children. The age limit of children was increased in 1894, to 13 and 16. In 1897 the law was so amended that the Department can inspect establishments named in the law, where men, women and children are employed, regardless of the number.

The report for 1900 shows the total number of employes to be 773,443—35,440 between 13 and 16 years of age, or less than 5 per cent. of the total number of employes being children. Many establishments will not employ children between 13 and 16 years of age, on account of the law requiring age certificates and record books to be kept on file.

Two hundred and seventy-three illiterate children, who were unable to either read or write, were dismissed. Most of them were provided with certificates sworn to before aldermen or notaries. These officials should be prohibited from issuing permits to children who are unable to read and write.

Accidents.

There were twenty-five hundred and fifty-seven accidents. Most of them were due to carelessness. One hundred and thirteen were fatal, four hundred and seventy-nine serious and nineteen hundred and sixty-five less serious. If the Department were given the same power as a coroner, to investigate accidents, I have no doubt the result would be beneficial.

Bake Shops.

The Bake Shop Law has been in force about three years. While it has resulted in improving the sanitary condition of the shops, some of the sections should be amended. Section three, which provides that the walls shall be wainscoted to the height of six feet, is a harbor for roaches and vermin; a plain, plastered wall would be much better.

Work Shops.

The law regulating the manufacturing of clothing, etc., has resulted in establishing better regulations and improving the sanitary condition of the shops. Most all the poorer ones have been abandoned, but family workers are increasing rapidly, and with the present force of deputies, we cannot attend to the work as it should be done. The continued increase of home workers has a tendency to reduce wages and spread disease, and, with the aid of the boards of health of Philadelphia and Pittsburg, we have been able to locate and destroy a large amount of clothing made in homes where contagious diseases prevailed. The thanks of the Factory Department are most heartily extended to those boards for their assistance.

Commonwealth vs. R. & J. R. Beatty.

The case of Commonwealth vs. R. & J. R. Beatty in which the defendants were convicted in the lower court for working women for a longer period than twelve hours a day or sixty hours a week, to which I referred in my last annual report, was carried to the Superior Court, and has been acted upon and decided in favor of the Commonwealth. The claim that the women worked of their own volition and were not compelled to do so, did not relieve the firm of the responsibility of the law.

Engines and Boilers.

In the inspection of mills and factories, we sometimes find men in charge of engines and boilers who have little experience, and less knowledge, of the power and danger of steam. While we can have dangerous machinery guarded, and fire escapes erected, we are unable to remove a man in charge of engines and boilers, who, through his lack of knowledge, is liable to cause an explosion and kill a large number of people.

A law licensing those who have charge of stationary engines and boilers, should be enacted, with examiners placed under the jurisdiction of the Factory Department, and from a careful examination of the subject, I am of the opinion that such a law, with a nominal fee for the license, would be self-sustaining and approved by the stationary engineers of the State.

Recommendations.

The Department is often called upon to enforce the fire escape law on buildings over which it has no jurisdiction. It would be proper for the General Assembly to place the enforcement of the fire escape law on the Factory Department.

Twenty-seven hundred and five more factories and shops have been inspected this year than last, and most of the deputies have been able to go over their districts but once, and none more than twice. The force should be large enough so that each district could be covered at least twice during the year. I would, therefore, recommend that the force be increased at least ten, and sub-offices established in Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

I desire to thank you for the hearty support you have given me in the work.

The Attorney General and his Assistant have been courteous and prompt in giving advice whenever called upon, which has occurred frequently, for which I extend my sincere thanks.

Very truly yours,

JAMES CAMPBELL,

Factory Inspector.

DECISION OF JUDGE BIDDLE, OF PHILADELPHIA, IN RE
COMMONWEALTH VS. ROBERT BEATTY AND JOHN R.
BEATTY.

Commonwealth	}	The following decision in reference to the Factory Law of 1897 will explain itself:
vs.
Robert Beatty and John R.
Beatty.

DEMURRER TO INDICTMENT.

The indictment in this case charges the defendants with the violation of the provisions of the act of Assembly of April 29th, 1897. The pertinent sections of this act which are charged to be violated are comprised in the first and fourteenth sections, to-wit:

Section 1. That no minor, male or female, or adult woman, shall be employed at labor or detained in any manufacturing establishment, mercantile industry, laundry, work shop, renovating works or printing office, for any longer period than twelve hours in any day, nor for a longer period than sixty hours in any week.

Section 14. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this act, or who suffers any child or female to be employed in violation of its provisions, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500.

To this the defendants have demurred, contending, inter alia, that the act, in so far as it applies to adult women, is contrary to the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania, because it is an unjust interference with her right of acquiring and possessing property and pursuing her own happiness; that it is also contrary to the Constitution of the United States, because it is an attempt to deprive her of liberty and property without due process of law.

The title of the act of April 29th, 1897, is "An act to regulate the employment and provide for the health and safety of men, women and children in manufacturing establishments, mercantile industries, laundries and renovating works and printing offices, and to provide for the appointment of inspectors, office clerks and others to enforce the same."

So that the object of the enactment as expressed by the Legislature is "to provide for the health and safety of men, women and children" in certain kinds of labor. This exercise of power, if it exists at all, must be derived from the police power of the State, and the real question here is whether it has been properly exercised.

In the great manufacturing State of Massachusetts, see Commonwealth vs. Hamilton Mfg. Co., 120 Mass. 383, in considering an almost identical statute, Mr. Justice Lore says:

"It does not forbid any person, firm or corporation, from employing as many persons or as much labor as such person, firm or corporation may desire, nor does it forbid any person to work as many hours a day or week as he chooses. It merely provides that in an employment which the Legislature has evidently deemed to some extent dangerous to health, no person shall be engaged more than ten hours a day or sixty hours a week.

"There can be no doubt that such legislation may be maintained, either as a health or police regulation, if it were necessary to resort to either of those sources for power. This principle has been so frequently recognized in this Commonwealth that reference to the decisions is unnecessary."

Mr. Justice Brown in the Supreme Court of the United States says: "This right of contract, however, is itself subject to certain limitations which the State may lawfully impose in the exercise of its police powers. While this power is inherent in all governments, it has doubtless been greatly extended in its application during the past century owing to an enormous increase in the number of occupations which are dangerous, or so far detrimental to, the health of employes as to demand special precautions for their well-being and protection or the safety of adjacent property, while this court has held, notably in the case of Davidson vs. New Orleans, 96 U. S. 97 (24, 616) and Yick Wo vs. Hopkins, 116 U. S. 356 (30:230) that while the police power cannot be put forward as an excuse for oppressive and unjust legislation, it may be lawfully resorted to for the purpose of preserving the public health, safety or morals, or the abatement of public nuisances, and a large discretion is necessarily vested in the Legislature to determine not only what the interests of the public require, but what measures are necessary for the protection of such interests." Lawler vs. Steele, 152 U. S. 133-136. (38:385:388).

In Pennsylvania the existence of the police power is recognized in numerous instances in our courts as a necessary function of government. Judge Rice, in Comm. vs. Brown, 8 Superior Ct. Rep. 351, says: "In the exercise of the police power of the State, it may enact laws in the interest of public morals, and to protect the lives, health and safety of persons following specific callings, and thus indirectly interfere with freedom of contract." And our Constitution specially provides, Art. XVI, Sec. 3, that "The exercise of police power of the State shall never be abridged or so construed as to permit corporations to conduct their business in such manner as to infringe the equal right of individuals of the general well-being of the State."

Surely an act which prevents the mothers of our race from being tempted to endanger their lives and health by exhaustive employment, can be condemned by none save those who expect to profit by it. The complaint of violated constitutional rights, it will be observed, does not come from those who are employed, but from those who employ them.

The Legislature has spoken in no uncertain words on this subject, and our Supreme Court has declared that "a statute will be declared unconstitutional by the court only when it violates the Constitution clearly, palpably, plainly and in such manner as to leave no doubt for hesitation in our minds." Sharpless vs. Phila., 21, Pa. 147.

We think that this act is clearly within the police power of the State, and the exercise of it in this case justified by the interests of the individual and the community.

Other points of demurrer in addition to those we have discussed were also very ably argued before us, but we are unable to perceive their application to the case before us.

The demurrer, therefore, to this bill of indictment is overruled.

COMMONWEALTH vs. R. AND J. R. BEATTY,

FILED JULY 26, 1900.

Commonwealth of Penn- sylvania vs. Robert Beatty and John R. Beatty.	} No. 234 October Term, 1899. Appeal from the court of quarter sessions of Philadelphia county. Judgment affirmed.

Filed July 26, 1900. Orlady, J.

An indictment against these defendants under the act of April 29, 1897, P. L. 30, was returned a true bill by the grand jury. A demurrer was filed thereto which after argument, was overruled, a judgment was entered for the Commonwealth, and the defendants were sentenced. On argument in this court the specifications of error are urged under two propositions: 1. The indictment does not charge a crime known to the laws of the State. 2. The act on which the indictment is based is in contravention of the constitution of the State and of the United States.

The title of the act is as follows: "To regulate the employment and provide for the health and safety of men, women and children, in manufacturing establishments, mercantile industries, laundries, renovating works or printing offices, and to provide for the appointment of inspectors, office clerks and others to enforce the same."

The first and fourteenth sections of the act are the ones alleged to have been violated, and the arguments of counsel have been confined to the consideration of those, viz: "Section 1. That no minor, male or female, or adult woman shall be employed at labor or detained in any manufacturing establishment, mercantile industry, laundry, workshop, renovating works or printing office for a longer period than twelve hours in one day, nor for a longer period than sixty hours in any week." "Section 14. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this act, or who suffers or permits any child or female to be employed in violation of its provisions, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars."

Theretofore the offense charged was not indictable; and it is set out in the indictment in the exact words of the act of Assembly which created it. The defendants could not have been misled as to the nature of the offense they were called upon to answer. It is sufficient in form under our procedure act of 1860, which requires only a substantial conformity with the act prohibiting the offense and prescribing its punishment.

The title to the act fairly invites an examination of the contents of the bill by all who employ men, women or children in the establishments, industries, works or offices mentioned, and everything which the nature of the subject of a title reasonably suggests as necessary or appropriate for the accomplishment of the expressed purpose is sufficiently indicated by the title: Com. v. Jones, 4 Pa. Superior Ct., 362. To regulate the employment and provide for the health and safety of men, women and children in industrial establishments, necessarily implies that rules and methods of government, permissive, mandatory and prohibitive are within the contemplation of the Legislature, and an enforced submission to the regulating agencies is implied through the imposition of penalties.

There has been a general disposition to construe the constitutional provision liberally, rather than to embarrass legislation by a construction the strictness of which is necessary to the accomplishment of the beneficial purposes for which it has been adopted: Cooley's Conts. Lim. 175. The title need not be a complete index to the bill. (Mauch Chunk v. Magee, 81 Pa. 433), if it fairly gives notice of the subject of the act so as reasonably to lead into an inquiry into the body of the bill, it is all that is necessary. Allegheny County Home's Case, 77 Pa. 77.

The appellants contend that the act is in violation of the State constitution, article 1, section 1, in that it is an unjust interference with an adult female's right of acquiring and possessing property, and of pursuing her own happiness; and in violation of article 3, section 7, in that it is a special law regulating labor.

It is a matter of history in our State that this act of Assembly is the result of extended legislative examination into the management of our varied industrial institutions, which has been conducted by legislative committees, and through our factory and mine inspection bureaus. It is one of a system which has developed in proportion to the growth and prosperity of the State, and when we consider that nearly a million of laborers, men, women and minors, are employed in the industries mentioned in the title of this act, it is apparent that legislation to regulate their employment and provide for their health and safety is an imperative necessity.

By section 2 of the act of April 21, 1849, P. L. 672, labor performed during a period of ten hours on any secular day in all cotton, woolen, silk, paper, bagging and flax factories, shall be considered a legal day's labor, and by a supplement to that act of May 7, 1855, P. L. 472, no male or female operators under the age of twenty-one years can be employed under any contract in these manufactories for a longer period than sixty hours in any one week—or more than an average of ten hours a day during the same period. A progressive step was taken by the act of June 3, 1893, P. L. 276, by which a new department of the State government was created, namely that of Factory Inspector. By this act all employers of women or children or either, in any factory, manufactory, mercantile establishment, renovating works, or laundry, are required to post and keep posted a notice stating the number of hours per day for each day of the week required of such persons, and the inspector was given visitorial powers over factories, workshops and other establishments employing women and children and was directed to make report of the number of hands employed in each with the maximum number of hours of work performed each week. With the light given by the results of the previous legislation on this important subject the act under consideration was enacted.

By article 16, section 3, our State Constitution declares that "the exercise of the police power of the State shall never be abridged." This inherent power of government is vested in the Legislature to make such laws as they shall judge to be for the good of the Commonwealth, and the exercise of it has been left to the individual states to determine primarily what measures are appropriate or needful for the protection of the public morals, the public health, or the public safety, subject to the power of the courts to adjudge whether any particular law is an invasion of the rights of the Constitution: Mugler vs. Kansas City, 123 U. S. 205, Book 31, L. C. P. Co.

The police power of the State is difficult of definition, but it has been held by the courts to be the right to prescribe regulations for the good order, peace, health, protection, comfort, convenience and morals of the community which does not encroach on a like power vested in Congress or State Legislatures by the Federal Constitution, or does not violate the provisions of the organic law; and it has been expressly held that the fourteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution was not designed to interfere with the exercise of that power by the State: Powell vs. Penna., 127 U. S. 678: Powell vs. Com., 114 Pa. 205. Its essential quality as a governmental agency is that it imposes upon persons and property burdens designed to promote the safety and welfare of the public at large. The principle that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law, was embodied in substance in the constitutions of nearly all, if not all, of the states at the time of the adoption of the fourteenth amendment, and it has never been regarded as incompatible with the principle, equally vital because equally essential to the peace and safety of society, that all property in this country is held under the implied obligation that the owner's use of it shall not be injurious to the community: Boston Beer Co. vs. Massachusetts, 97 U. S. 32.

A prohibition upon unhealthy practices, whether inherently so, or such as may become so by reason of prolonged and exacting physical exertion which is likely to result in enfeebled or diseased bodies, and thereby directly or consequently affecting the health, safety or morals of the community, cannot in any just sense be deemed a taking or an appropriation of property.

The length of time a laborer shall be subjected to the exhaustive exertion of physical labor is as clearly within legislative control as is the governmental inspection of boilers, machinery, etc., to avoid accidents, or of the sanitary conditions of factories and the like to preserve the health of laborers.

The power to legislate on this subject is inherent in all free governments, and is limited only by the Constitution. It must be asserted within reasonable limits. And when we consider that the federal government has fixed eight hours as a day's work for all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by or on behalf of it (Reb. Stat. sec. 3738), and that our own State has fixed the same number of hours as a day's labor in all of our penal institutions (Act of May 20, 1891, P. L. 100), and for all mechanics, workmen and laborers in the employ of the State, or any municipal corporation therein (Act of July 26, 1897, P. L. 418), and that electric railway companies are prohibited from permitting or suffering any of their employes to work more than twelve hours in one day (Act of March 24, 1887, P. L. 13), and that in all cotton, woolen, silk, paper bagging and flax factories, ten hours of any secular day shall be considered a legal day's labor (acts of 1849 and 1855 above mentioned), it cannot be held to be unreasonable to fix the time of labor for adult females at twelve hours a day or not more than sixty hours a week in the establishments named in this act.

If such legislation savors of paternalism, it is in its least objectionable form, in that it cares for those who from their own necessities, ambition, or the cupidity of their employers, may be prompted or required to jeopardize their health in unreasonable and dangerous employment, which in the legislative judgment, founded upon statistical experience injuriously affects their health, and hence the interests of the State itself. It is of the same character of legislation which prohibits the employment of females in or about coal mines, and of minors in trades, etc., which labor arrests or impairs the natural development of mind and body. The State at large is more interested than either employer or employee in preserving that natural physical condition which assures to the individual the most of health and happiness and is least likely to transmit physical, mental or moral effects to succeeding generations. The Legislature has adjudged that the health of adult females is imperiled by being employed at labor in establishments named for a longer time than stated in the act. The adult females, or even the employer, may think otherwise, but self interests from a financial standpoint is often an unsafe guide. "Though reasonable doubts may exist as to the power of the Legislature to pass a law, or as to whether the law is calculated or adapted to promote the health, safety or comfort of the people, or to secure good order, or promote the general welfare, we must resolve them in favor of that department of government." State vs. Holden, 37 L. R. A. 108. "The Legislature has recognized the fact which the experience of legislators in many states has corroborated, that the proprietors of these establishments and their operatives do not stand upon an equality, and that their interests are to a certain extent conflicting." Holden vs. Hardy, 169 Pa. U. S. 366; Book 42, L. ed. 780.

The whole argument in this case is based on the injury done to the adult females, whose right to labor as long as they please is alleged to be violated. The remarks of the court in Holden vs. Hardy, 14 Utah 71, are applicable here. "The argument would certainly come with better grace and greater cogency from the latter class. But the fact that both parties are of full age and competent to contract does not necessarily deprive the state of the power to interfere, when the parties do not stand upon an equality, or when the public health demands that one party to the contract shall be protected against himself. The state still retains an interest in his welfare, however reckless he may be. The whole is no greater than the sum of all the parts, and when the individual health, safety and welfare are sacrificed, the state must suffer." This declaratoion was adopted by the United States Supreme Court in Holden vs. Hardy, 169 U. S. 366, 42 L. ed. 780, in validating a state statute which limited the employment of men in underground mines, smelting works, etc., to eight hours a day.

The object of such legislation is the good of the public as well as of the individual. The fact that the individual is willing to waive protection cannot avail. The public good is entitled to protection and consideration; and if, in order to effectuate that object, there must be enforced protection to the individual, such individual must submit to such enforced protection for the public good. The statute was enacted as a remedy for such evil. Short vs. Mining Co., 45 L. R. A. 603. In the exercise of its police power the State may enact laws in the interest of public morals, and to protect the lives, health and safety of persons following specified callings and may thus indirectly interfere with the freedom of contract. Lawler vs. Steele, 152 U. S. 133; Com. vs. Brown, 8 Pa., Superior Ct. 351. It is undisputed that some employments may be admissible for males and yet improper for females, and regulations recognizing and forbidding women to engage in such would be open to no reasonable objection. The same is true of young children whose employment in mines and manufactories is commonly and ought always to be regulated. In addition to the power to punish misdemeanor and felonies, the State has also the authority to make extensive and varied regulations as to the time, mode and circumstances in and under which parties shall assert, enjoy or exercise these rights without coming in conflict with any of those constitutional principles which are established for the protection of private rights or private property. Cooley's Const. Lim. 745, 6th ed. It is the prerogative of the Legislature to prescribe regulations founded on nature, reason and experience in determining the kind of labor and the length of time it shall be permitted by either men, women or minors. Sex imposes limitations to excessive or long continued physical labor, as certainly as does minority, and the arrested development of children is no more dangerous to the State than debilitating so large a class of our citizens as adult females by undue and unreasonable physical labor. In overruling the demurer the court below pertinently said: "Surely an act which prevents the mothers of our race from being tempted to endanger their life and health by exhaustive employment can be condemned by none save those who expect to profit by it." The complaint of violated constitutional rights, it will be observed, does not come from those who are employed, but from those who employ them. The proper office of statutes is to remedy the defects and modify the operation of common law rules in order to meet changed conditions in society and increased volume and improved methods in business. Com. vs. Vrooman, 164 Pa. 316.

In view of our many mining and manufacturing industries, the solicitous care of government over the health and safety of the laborers is an important branch of legislative duties. It is not a denial of the right to contract. Labor in the establishment mentioned in the act is permitted, but in the legislative judgment, it is not good for the State at large, as it now is, and as it is intended to continue, that adult females should labor a greater number of hours than mentioned in the act. If employes, without regard to sex, are required or permitted to perform labor in fixed places where but few of the muscles of the body are used, where the temperature is abnormal, where chemicals are employed and the air is impoverished by, or laden with, noxious gases and impalpable particles, the physical tension and nervous strain consequent upon such employment for an unreasonable time must of necessity produce an appreciable and dangerous effect on the health of the employe so exposed. Adult females are a class as distinct as minors, separated by natural conditions from all other laborers, and are so constituted as to be unable to endure physical exertion and exposure to the extent and degree that is not harmful to adult males; and employments which under favorable conditions are not injurious are rightly limited as to time by this statute, so as not to become harmful by prolonged engagements.

The conflict of decision on the question of the power to limit contracts between master and servants is marked, and it is far from settled. In the interest of public policy in this State the trend of the decisions in Com. vs. Brown, 8 Pa. Superior Ct. 339, Com. vs. Hamilton Mfg. Co. 120 Mass. 383; 163 Mass. 339, and Holden vs. Hardy, 169 U. S. 266, 42 L. ed. 78, is more likely to furnish better results, and secure greater health to the Commonwealth, rather than the class of cases of which Ritchie vs. The People, 155 Ill. 98, L. R. A. 79, is most frequently cited.

Class legislation discriminating against some and favoring others, is prohibited, but legislation which, in carrying out a public purpose, is limited in its application, if within the sphere of its operation, and if it affects all persons similarly situated is not within the fourteenth amendment. Barlier vs. Connelly, 113 U. S. 27, 28, L. ed. 923; Minneapolis & St. Paul Ry. vs. Beckwith, 129 U. S. 29 U. S. 32 L. ed., 585.

The act cannot be said to be a local or special law "regulating labor, trade, mining or manufacturing," in violation of article 3, section 7, when it applies to all adult females alike throughout the State who are employed in the establishments mentioned in the act. It relates to and distinctly defines the class of persons affected by it. Wheeler vs. Phila., 77 Pa. 338; Durkin vs. Kingston Coal Co., 171 Pa. 192; Com. vs. Jones, Pa. Superior Ct. 362.

The assignments of error are overruled and the judgment in the court below is affirmed.

FIRST INSPECTION DISTRICT.

Philadelphia, October 31, 1900.

Mr. James Campbell, Esq., Chief Factory Inspector, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: I have the honor to submit herewith a brief report of the work done in District No. 1, for the year ending October 31, 1900, comprising Factory, Family and Bakehouse Inspection.

During the past year I have made one thousand and twenty-three (1,023) Factory, two hundred and ninety-five (295) Family and twenty-one (21) Bakehouse inspections, and in addition to these have made one hundred and fifty-one (151) special visits.

One hundred and twelve (112) accidents have been investigated, of which twelve (12) were fatal, thirty (30) serious and seventy (70) less serious. The majority of these accidents were found to be due to carelessness on the part of employes.

I have given four hundred and forty-nine (449) orders, comprising fire escapes, water closets, guarding of elevators or machinery. and am pleased to say that with few exceptions, they have been cheerfully complied with. In fact at no time in the history of the Factory Inspection Department were the employes better protected than at present.

Section second of the Factory Law should, I think, be amended in some manner in reference to issuing children's certificates. Parents are too prone when pushed by poverty to swear to a child's age as being greater than it really is, and I would suggest that when at all practicable the endorsement of principal or teacher in charge of school which the child last attended, be required. In the enforcement of the Compulsory Education Law there should be more co-operation between the school authorities and the Factory Inspection Department.

SECOND INSPECTION DISTRICT.

SECOND INSPECTION DISTRICT.

W. S. GODFREY, Inspector.

Philadelphia, Pa., November 1, 1900.

Mr. James Campbell, Factory Inspector:

My Dear Sir: An interesting year in the work of inspection of factories, bakeries and sweat shops of my district has drawn to a close.

I am able to report advancing improvements in all departments of work. The vigor of business during the year has brought again employment to those who have had cause to complain in the past of the mills shutting down for weeks. The employer and employee have alike been benefited by the mutual help of the Factory Law.

It is seldom now that the Inspector hears argument against any order, but rather there is a ready assent to any beneficial change. Thus the law is showing its applicability and progress. Prompt compliance of orders has been the rule throughout the year's work.

Bakeshop conditions continue to go forward, one vieing with another in the same locality to reach sanitary oven improvements.

The demand for family permits shows an increased number of home workers, and a more faithful adherence of mercantile places to the law regarding such.

The number of accidents this year has been greater, but the number of employed has been multiplied, thereby the percentage agrees.

Philadelphia, Pa., November 1, 1900.

Mr. James Campbell, Factory Inspector:

Dear Sir: I have the honor to forward my fifth annual report of work performed by me in the Third district of Philadelphia.

SIXTH INSPECTION DISTRICT.

---

Philadelphia, Pa., November 1, 1900.

Mr. James Campbell, Chief Factory Inspector, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I beg leave to respectfully submit my annual report and general summary of inspections made for the inspection year ending October 31, 1900.

I have made two hundred and seventy-six (276) general or factory inspections, one hundred and fifty-two (152) bake shop, one hundred and two (102) sweat shop, two thousand five hundred and fifty-two (2,552) family inspections, and one thousand three hundred and twenty-five (1,325) visits, making a total of four thousand four hundred and seven (4,407) inspections and visits for the year, being an increase of four hundred and sixteen (416) over last year, an average of fourteen per day for three hundred and thirteen working days in the year.

I issued four hundred and eighteen (418) factory, one hundred and nine (109) bake shop, and one hundred and twenty-seven (127) sweat shop orders, of which three hundred and ninety-five (395) factory, ninety-four (94) bake shop, and one hundred and twenty-seven (127) sweat shop orders were complied with to date. I investigated sixty-four (64) accidents, of which ten were fatal, thirteen serious and forty-four of a less serious nature. Fifty-one (51) illiterate children were dismissed, and the truant officers of the Board of Education were notified, where residence of child was known. One hundred and seventy-four (174) certificates of age of children were issued on the oath or affirmation of parent or guardian, and thirty-nine (39) complaints were investigated.

Since my last annual report, the sweat shop workers and number of shops in this district have diminished, through the successful operation of the new law relating thereto.

I would recommend that the said law be further amended so as to give power that the fine can be imposed and collected by any magistrate, justice of the peace, or alderman in the same manner as fines are now imposed and collected.

The system inaugurated by which the Health Bureau of this city reports daily to each inspector of this Department a list of all existing contagious disease, is being faithfully carried out. These reports do not average five cases per day in this district as against fifteen to twenty last year.

During this year an exceedingly large number of arrests have been made for violations of section 1 of the acts of Assembly approved May 5, 1897, and April 28, A. D. 1899, all but one of which were settled by defendants paying costs, and signing agreements to comply with the law in the future. The exceptional case was returned to court, and the defendant found guilty and fined, and a decision was rendered by Judge Arnold sustaining the act of April 28, A. D. 1899.

It is a source of much pleasure to report a still greater and more prosperous period than last year in this district.

Each succeeding year gives the Factory Laws a wider publicity in this district, and a more generous compliance with orders given is the result.

I desire to attest to the uniform courtesy extended to me by Mr. Robert Hill, Chief of the Bureau of Building Inspection, and his assistants, and to Col. J. Lewis Good, President of the Health Bureau, of this city.

I deeply appreciate, and return to you Mr. Campbell, my sincere thanks for your generous confidence and kindness shown me, and also to the office force for their prompt response during the year.

SEVENTH INSPECTION DISTRICT.

---

Philadelphia, Pa., November 1, 1900.

James Campbell, Chief Factory Inspector, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I have the honor to submit herewith, in accordance with the custom of the Department, a report as to my labors in the Third, Fourth and Seventh inspection districts for the present fiscal year.

During that period I have made a total of twelve hundred and seventy-seven (1,277) inspections, divided as follows:

Factories, .....	902
Sweat shops, .....	15
Bake shops, .....	16
Families, .....	344

I have found it necessary to issue three hundred and fifty-nine (359) orders, nearly all of which have been promptly complied with and in forty-three (43) instances I have directed the erection of fire escapes. A few of these have not yet been completed, but are under way. In twenty-three (23) cases I found it necessary to issue orders concerning water closets and in twenty-six (26) instances concerning elevators. But few of these have failed of prompt attention.

During this period I have investigated thirty-four (34) cases of accidents, none of which, however, were fatal.

This period has been a very busy one and while my work has been largely confined to my own district (the Seventh), I have in pursuance to your direction, performed work in the Third and Fourth districts, during the past six months. This was owing very largely to the fact that many new establishments have been constructed and all the mills and factories have been running on full or double time.

NINTH INSPECTION DISTRICT.

B. R. MYERS, Inspector.

Ogontz, Pa., November 1, 1900.

Mr. James Campbell, Chief Factory Inspector, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I have the honor to submit my second annual report of duty performed as Deputy Factory Inspector in the Ninth district.

I have made nine hundred and four (904) factory inspections, one hundred and four (104) bake shop inspections, and one hundred and seventy-nine (179) visits, making a total of eleven hundred and eighty-five (1,185) inspections and visits for the year.

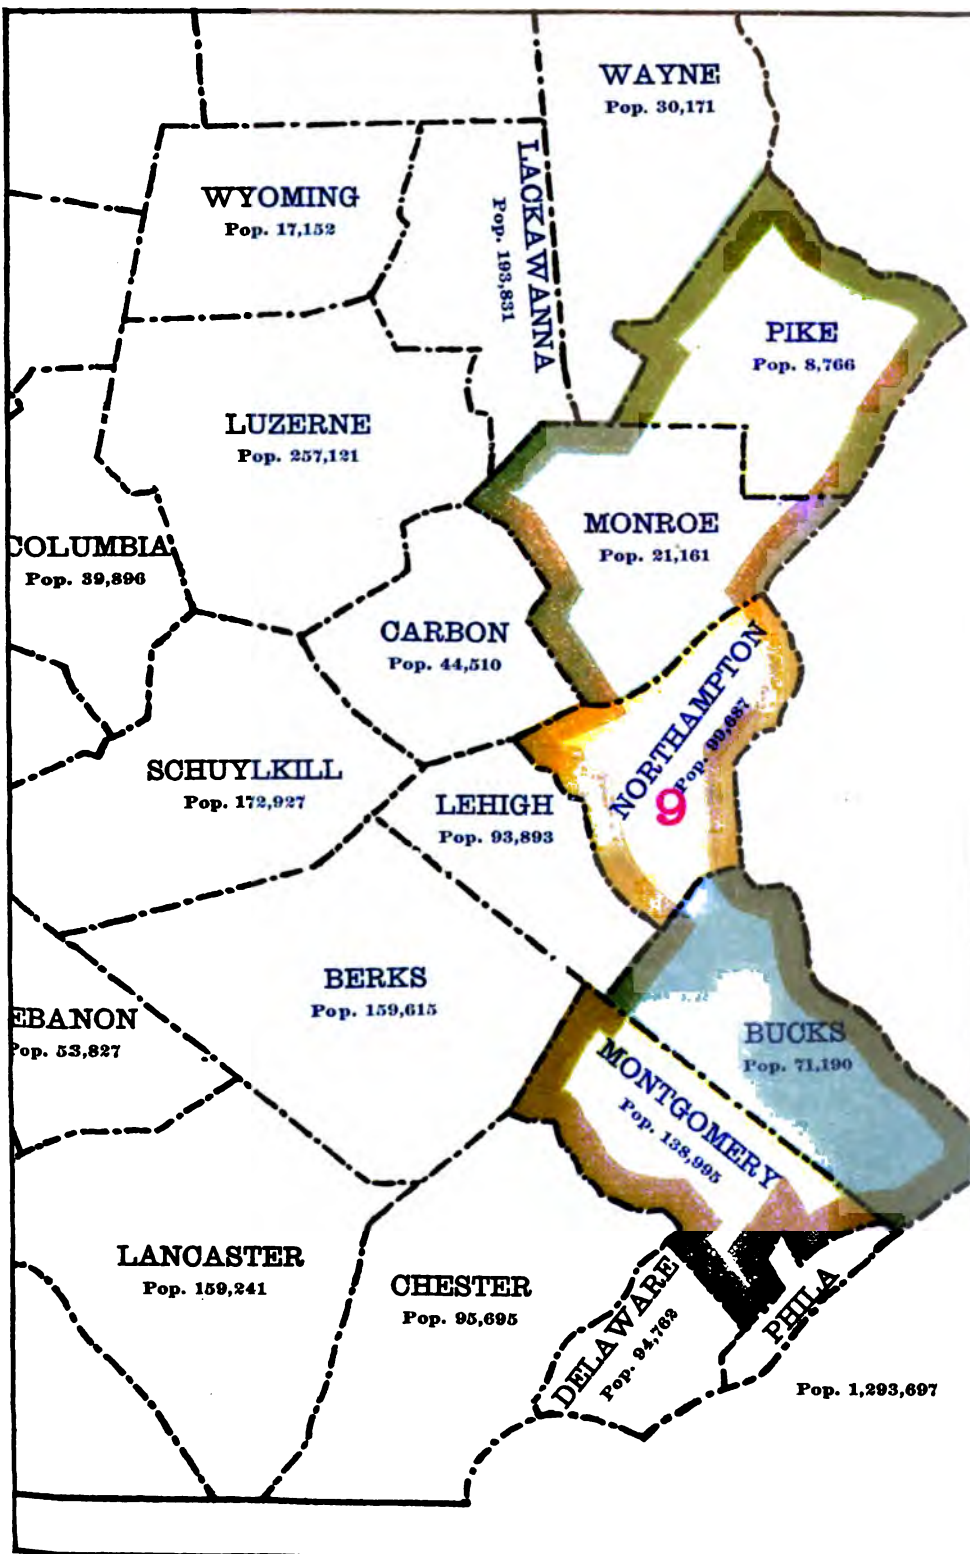

The greatest activity has prevailed during the year in all manufacturing industries.

I have requested the users of steam boilers to keep posted a record of their inspections.

Regarding bakeries, the tendency is to build the bake shop above ground, getting better ventilation, more light, and a purer atmosphere, which means a purer food product.

TENTH INSPECTION DISTRICT.

Allentown, Pa., November 1, 1900.

Hon. James Campbell, Chief Factory Inspector:

Sir: I herewith submit the annual report of work done in the Tenth district, comprising the counties of Berks, Carbon, Lehigh and Schuylkill. Textile industries being numerous, the decision in the case of the Commonwealth vs. R. & J. R. Beatty was anxiously awaited, I have circulated it freely, and hope that the full, clear, construction placed upon section 1 will bring no further attempts to violate the law in this district.

Section 2, which regulates the employment of children, needs continual vigilance.

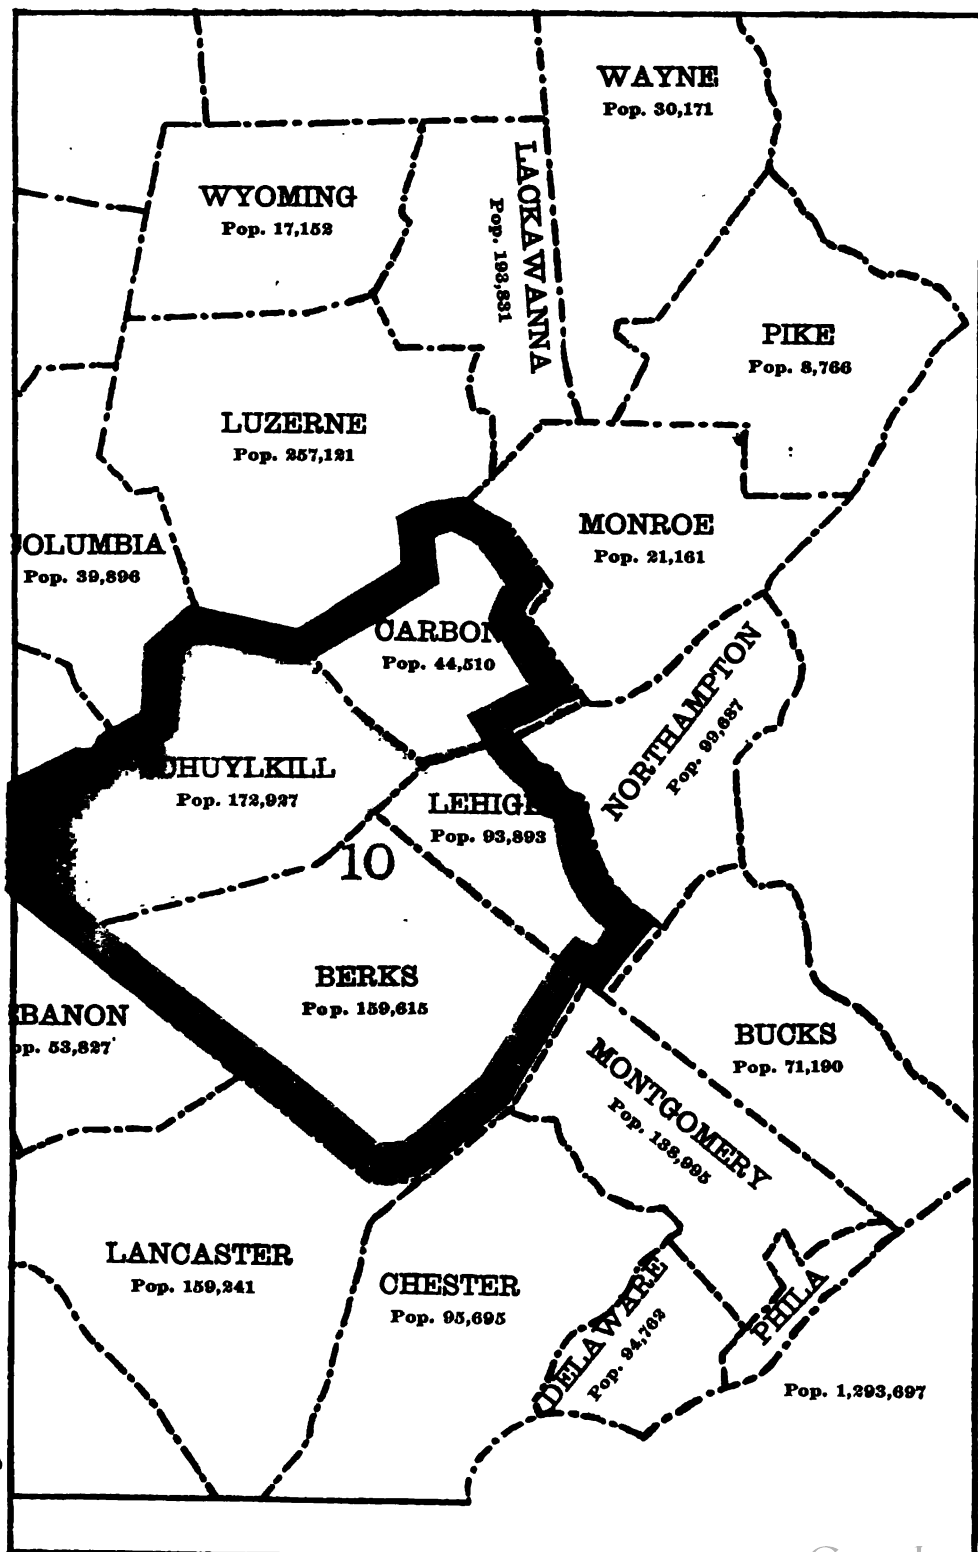

With the assistance of the school authorities, in several sections of my district I have succeeded in taking a number of children out of mills and factories who were illegally employed.

Elevators and machinery are more promptly guarded than formerly.

Having been appealed to in several instances, once in writing by the secretary of an organization, asking about fire escapes for halls, lodge rooms, hotels, etc., I was compelled to say to them that we had no jurisdiction over these places.

There should be competent boiler inspectors appointed under the jurisdiction of the Factory Department. I have found several cases where incompetent persons were in charge of boilers and engines.

Of the factory orders issued, 95 per cent. have been complied with. Some of the remainder have no doubt been attended to but have sent in no notifications thereof. Nearly all the bake shop orders have been complied with. Strictly speaking, there are no sweat shops in this district. I have inspected several work shops and family workers but all are in good condition.

Dunmore, Pa., November 1, 1900.

Hon. James Campbell, Chief Factory Inspector, Harrisburg, Pa.:

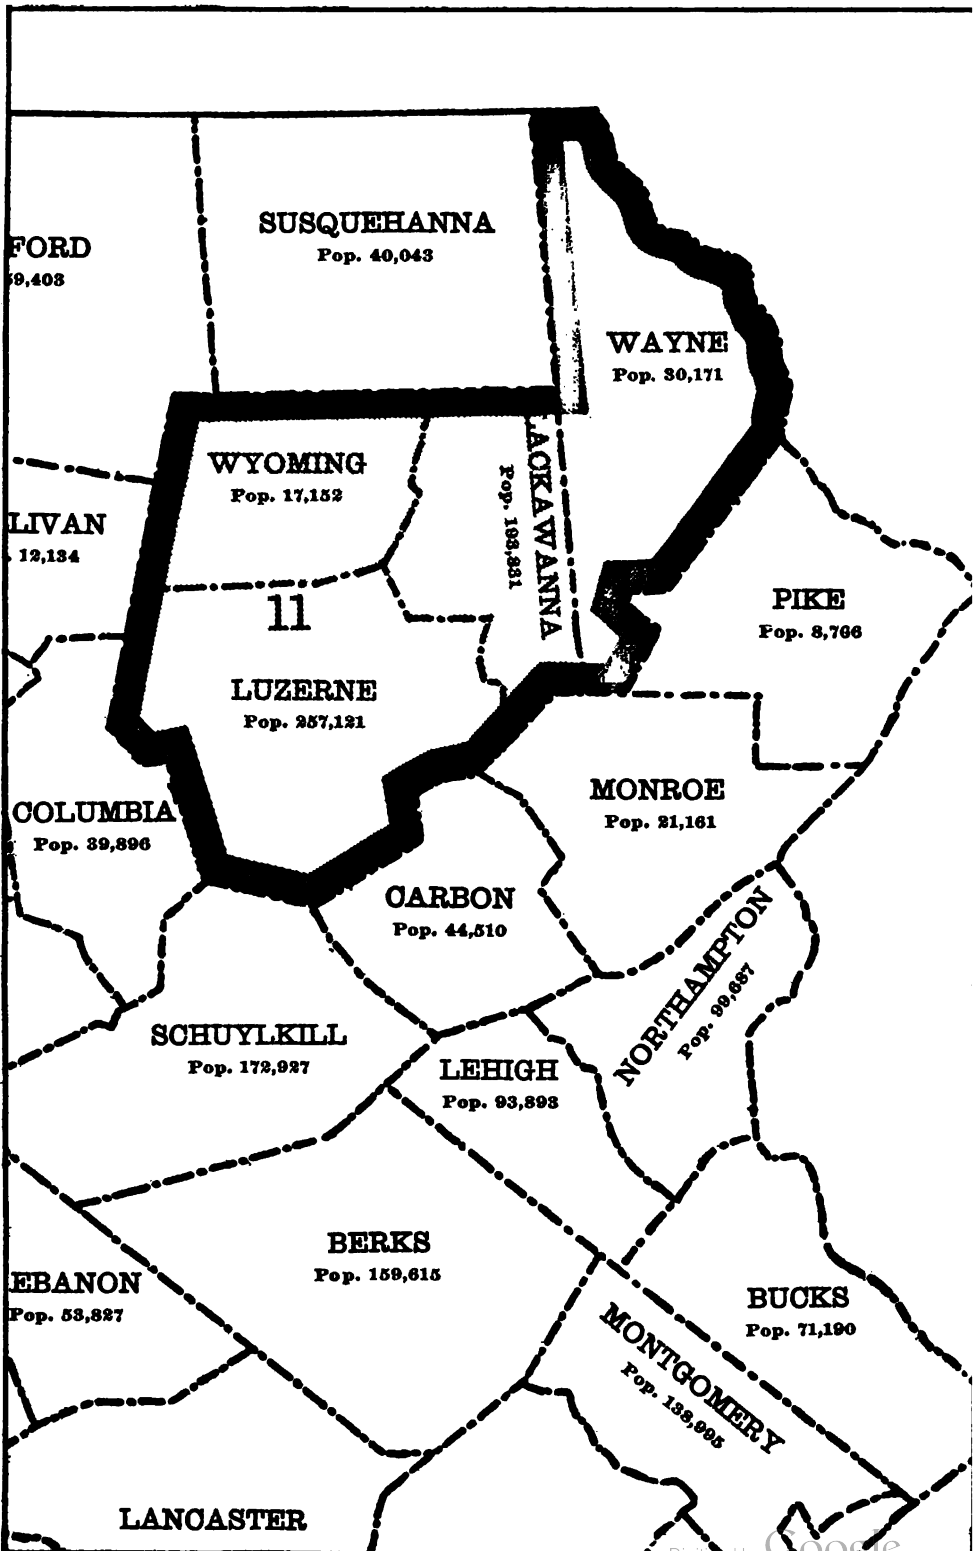

Dear Sir: Your letter of October 15, 1900, reminding me of the ending of the Factory Inspection year and that you wanted a concise written report of the work done by me in the year beginning November 1, 1899, and closing October 31, 1900, duly received. I herewith respectfully submit the following:

I have made during the year two hundred more inspections than last year. Have issued seven hundred and eighteen (718) orders. I am pleased to report that with very few exceptions all have been complied with. I have issued free of charge three hundred and eleven (311) certificates to children between thirteen and sixteen (13 & 16) years of age. The attention of the next Legislature should be called to child labor in the coal mines and breakers over which our Department has no jurisdiction and to which I have referred annually for four years.

I have given orders to erect twenty-seven (27) fire escapes; where people were employed in the third or higher story, sixty-nine (69) orders to guard machinery, etc., one hundred and seventeen (117) orders for the inspection of boilers, and four hundred and fifteen (415) miscellaneous orders requiring the use of disinfectants, providing seats for females, etc.

Accidents reported to me during the year show three (3) fatal, thirty (30) serious and one hundred and thirty-five (135) less serious.

I am pleased to say that the owners and superintendents of the various industries in my district treat me courteously, and speak commendably of the Factory Department. They now realize that by complying with the requirements of the law in guarding dangerous machinery, etc., they are protecting themselves as well as their employes. I have made during the year, including accidents investigated, one thousand four hundred and forty-four (1,444) inspections.

ELEVENTH DISTRICT—EARL W. BISHOP, Inspector.

Thirteenth Inspection District.

THIRTEENTH INSPECTION DISTRICT.

JOHN K. ROBISON, Inspector.

---

Mifflintown, Pa., November 1, 1900.

James Campbell, Esq., Chief Factory Inspector:

Dear Sir: I have the honor to submit the following report of the inspection of the factories and bakeries for the year ending October 31, 1900.

My district is composed of the counties of Centre, Huntingdon, Northumberland, Montour, Columbia, Mifflin, Union, Snyder, Juniata, and Perry was added to it in August last. I have made a careful inspection of all the factories.

I have inspected them twice, except those located in Perry county. I found them with but few exceptions in good condition.

It was necessary to recommend changes in but few cases as the owners and operators of manufacturing establishments have by this time learned to comply with the law governing the Department without question.

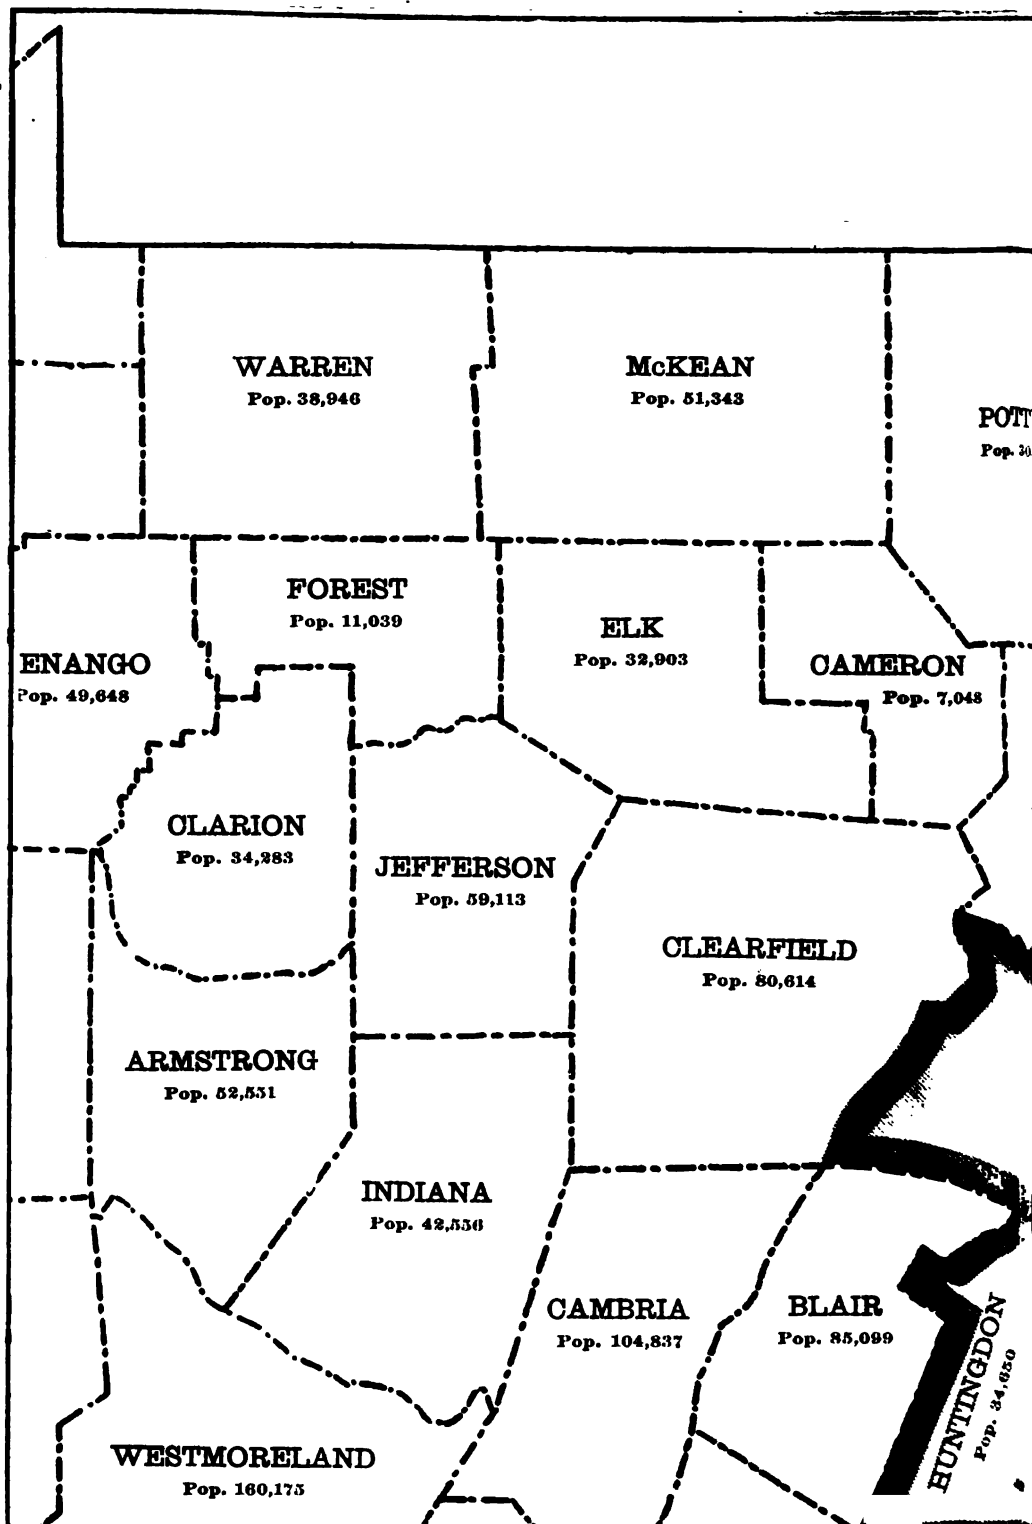

The bake shops in the district are in a sanitary condition, and I found it necessary to give only twelve (12) orders.

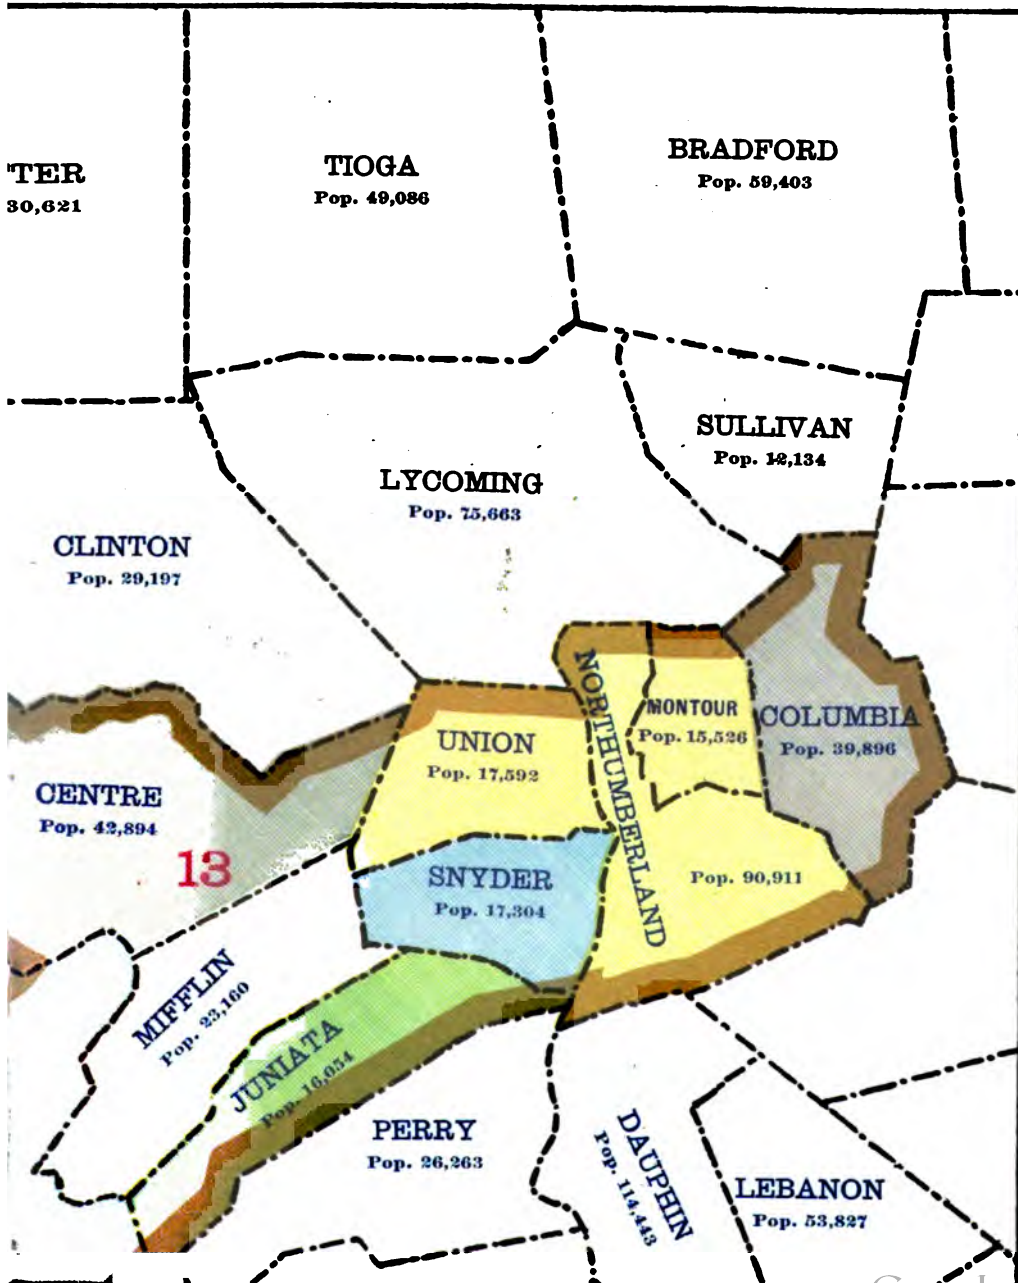

I also gave many verbal order, nearly all of which have been complied with.

I was not able to make as many inspections this year as last, as my district has been greatly enlarged, and in many cases much time was lost on account of poor railroad facilities.

The prosperity of last year continues. New manufacturing establishments are being built and the old ones are increasing their output; wages have been increased and there seems to be a general feeling of contentment among the employees. No serious accidents were reported this year.

FOURTEENTH INSPECTION DISTRICT.

MARY WAGNER, Inspector.

Harrisburg, Pa., November 1, 1900.

Mr. James Campbell, Factory Inspector, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I respectfully submit to you a synopsis of the work in the Fourteenth district for the year ending October 31, 1900.

Of the factories, work shops, etc., in this district, I am pleased to report a favorable increase in number and improved conditions.

I believe that both the spirit and the letter of the law are generally observed, which of course is very gratifying to those whose aim it is to bring about better conditions in places where men, women and children are compelled to toil for an existence.

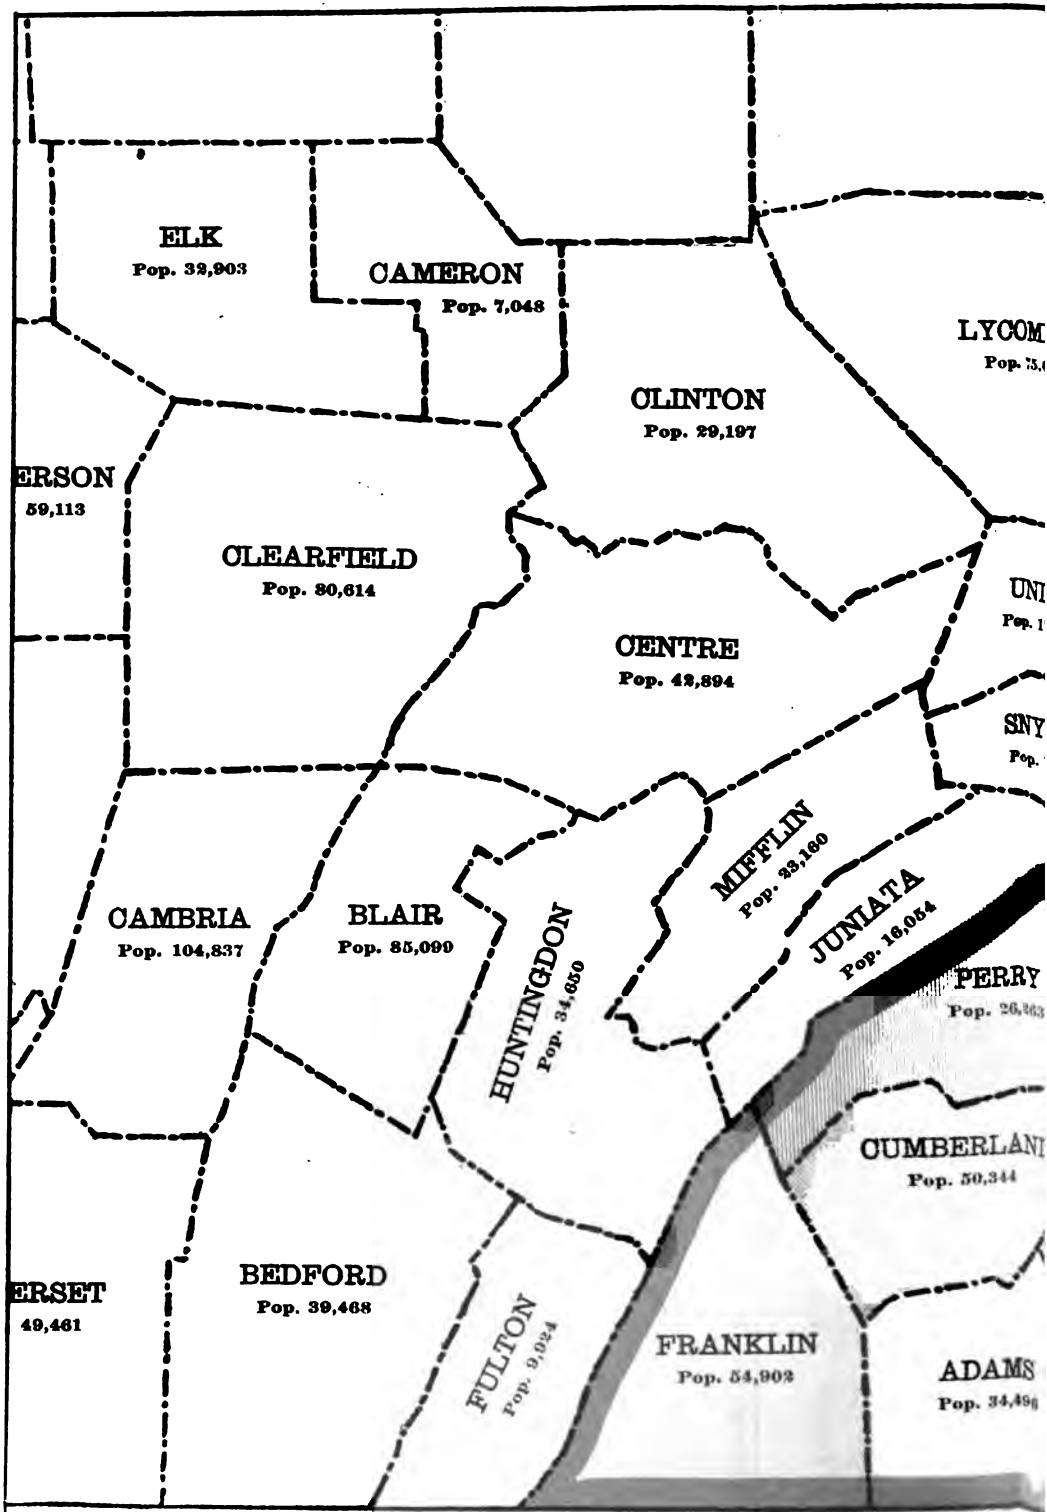

With but few exceptions, and those will be complied with in due time, the suggestions made were promptly and cheerfully taken. All of which is appreciated.

I have been treated most kindly by employer and employe, and I have endeavored to perform my work to the best of my ability.

Fifteenth Inspection District.

FIFTEENTH INSPECTION DISTRICT.

---

W. S. MULLIN, Inspector.

Hyndman, Pa., November 1, 1900.

Hon. James Campbell, Chief Factory Inspector, Harrisburg, Pa.:

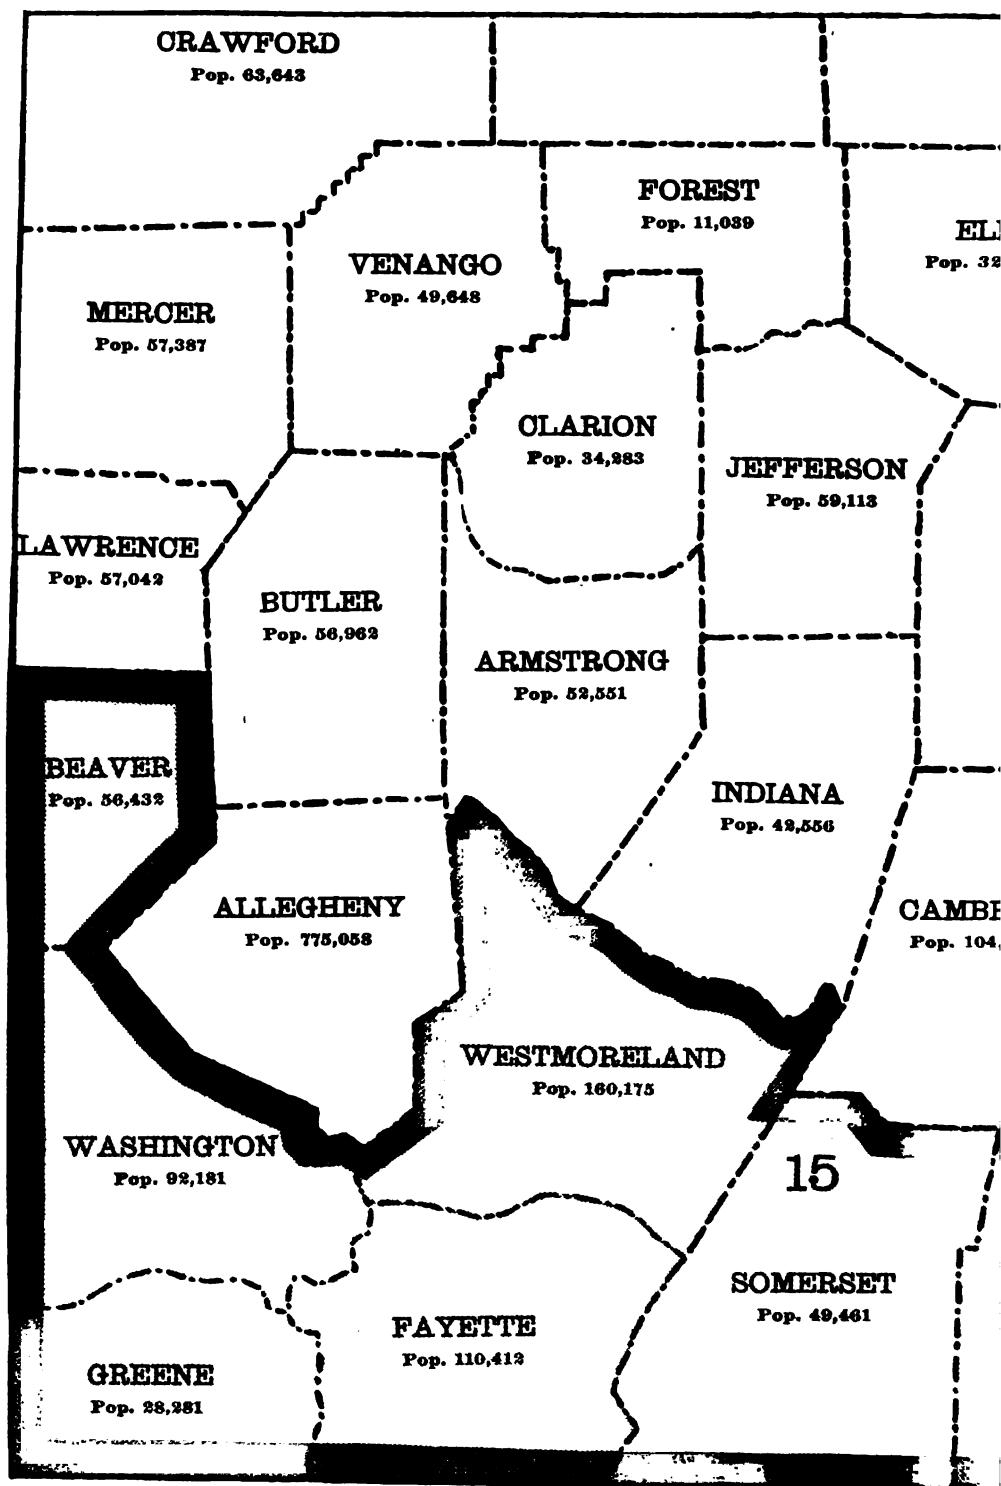

Dear Sir: I have the honor to submit to you a brief narrative of my work in the Fifteenth district during the fiscal year just closed.

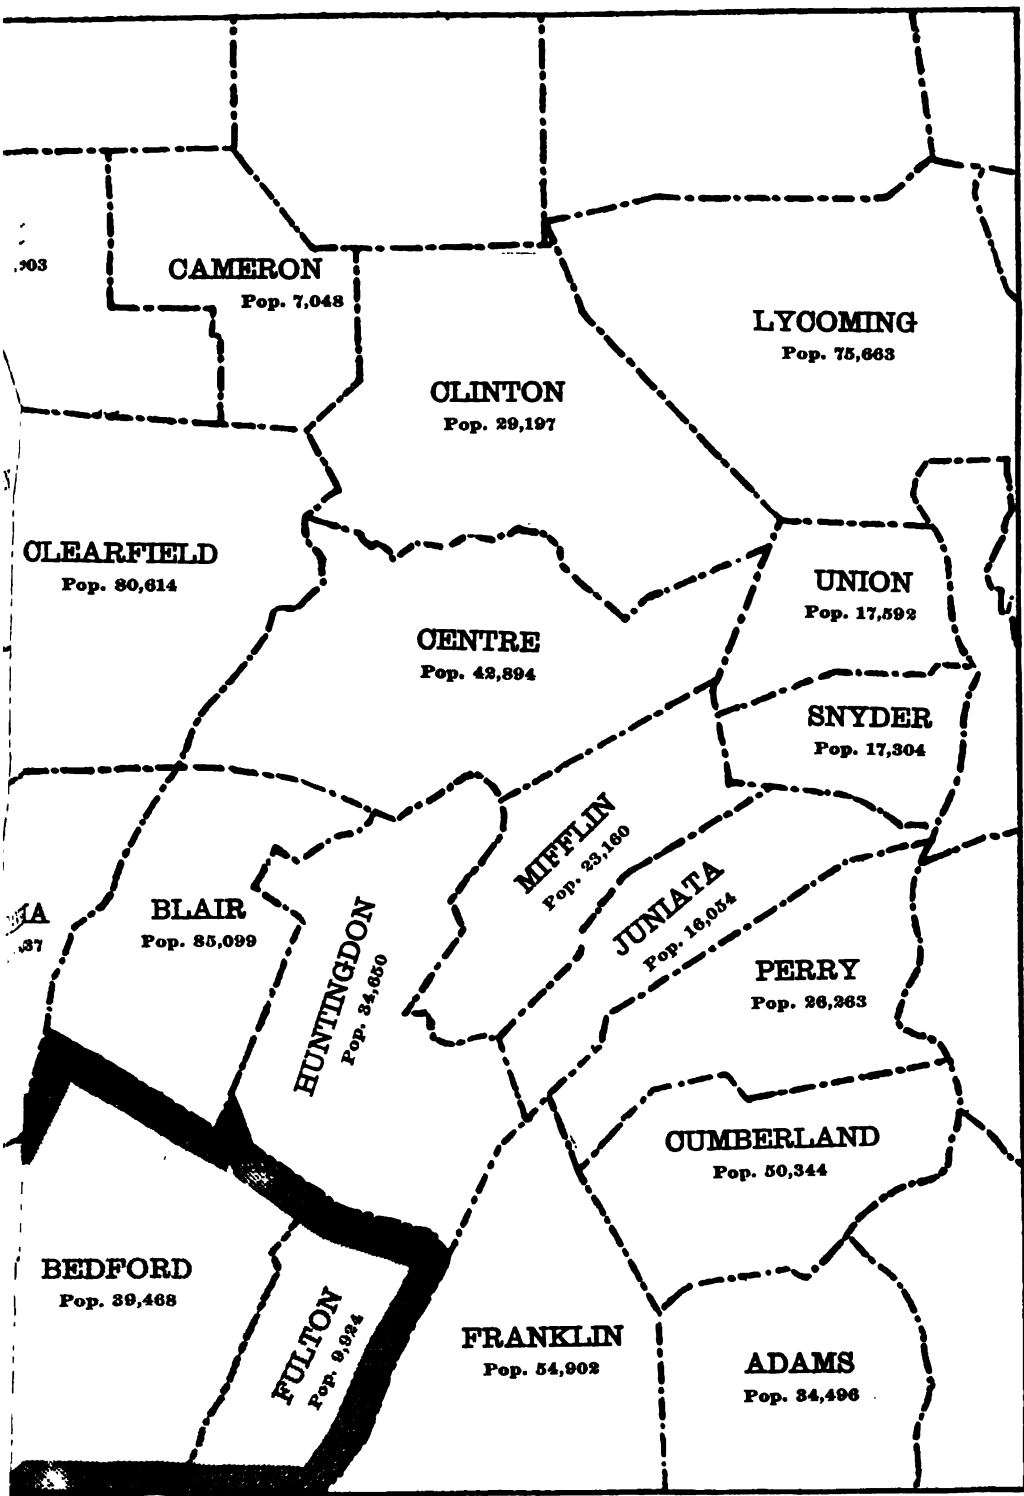

I have made five hundred and forty-seven (547) factory inspections, which represents the number of industries in my district. I issued four hundred and seventy-nine (479) orders for compliance with the various sections of the law, of which, four hundred and fifty-eight (458) have been complied with. There were during the year thirty-two (32) accidents, three fatal, eighteen serious and eleven less serious.

I investigated all of the fatal and serious, and I am glad to report that in none of the cases could the employers be censured.

A number of improved protection guards and rules were adopted in many cases. This has been a remarkably prosperous year in all industries. The only complaint here was against the lack of skilled and unskilled labor. I inspected one hundred and one (101) bake shops, and issued fifty-one (51) orders, mostly for compliance with section 3. Thirty-eight (38) have been complied with, and very generally the law is being obeyed. Some violations have been reported in regard to the employment of children, mostly in the glass works; upon investigation I found most of them to be unintentional and caused by the great rush of business and the insufficient supply of boys and girls of lawful age. In every case it was immediately corrected, and obedience to the law is becoming a fixed rule. The semi-monthly pay law is being complied with in nearly every section of my district, and where it is not there is no complaint made, which indicates monthly pay to be satisfactory. Through your firmness and wise counsel I have been able to adjust many important cases without litigation. Your determination to enforce the laws is being recognized by all employers, and it is a great lever in the hands of your deputies to secure compliance.

S. MULLIN, Inspector.

Sixteenth Inspection District.

SIXTEENTH INSPECTION DISTRICT.

---

T. A. BRADLEY, Inspector.

Lilly, Pa., November 1, 1900.

Hon. James Campbell, Chief Factory Inspector, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I herewith submit a brief report of work done in the Sixteenth district for the year ending October 31, 1900.

During the year I have made eight hundred and four (804) factory inspections, one hundred and nine (109) bake shop inspections, and twenty-seven (27) official visits. I gave one hundred and eighty-seven (187) factory orders, and twenty-eight (28) bake shop orders.

There are one hundred and eighty-five (185) of the factory orders complied with, and the bake shop orders have all been complied with.

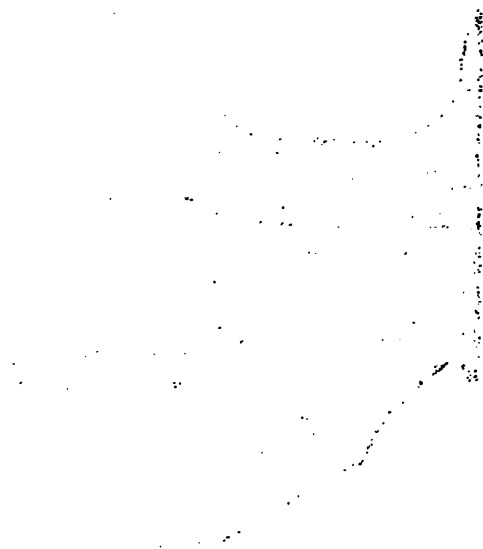

Little can be said in the space allotted about this important work.

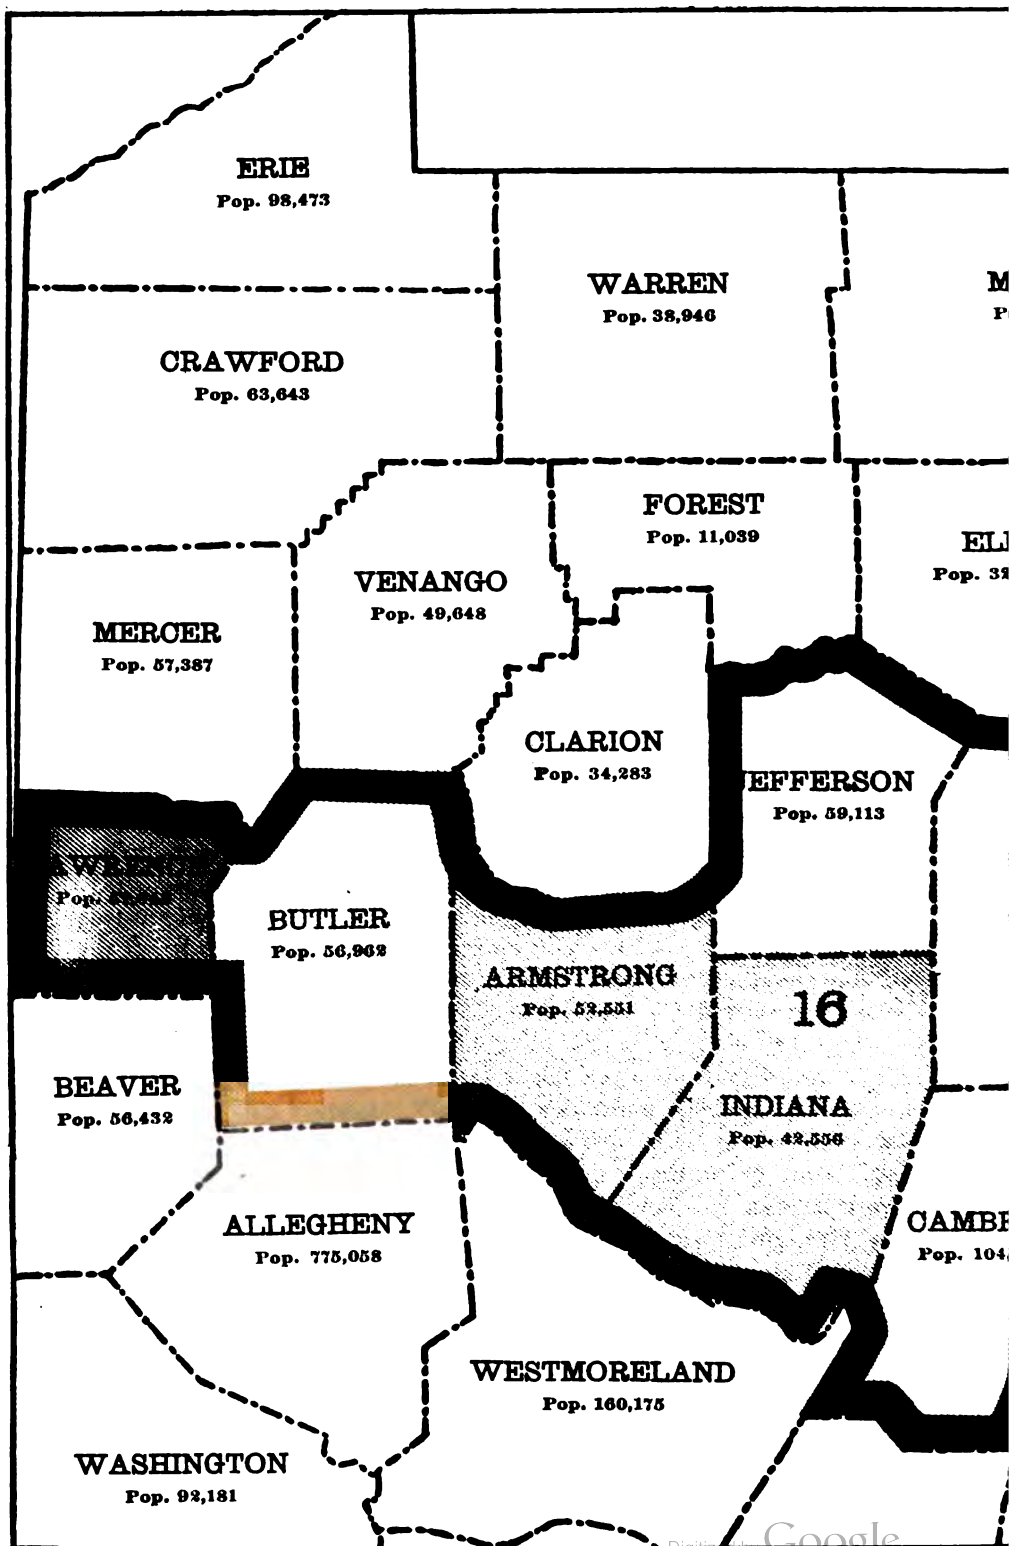

The daily reports of inspections do not even give an adequate idea of all that is accomplished. Reports are necessarily of a methodical nature, and do not give in detail the many suggestions that the Inspector may make concerning matters that may seem trivial, and that do not properly come under the letter of the law.

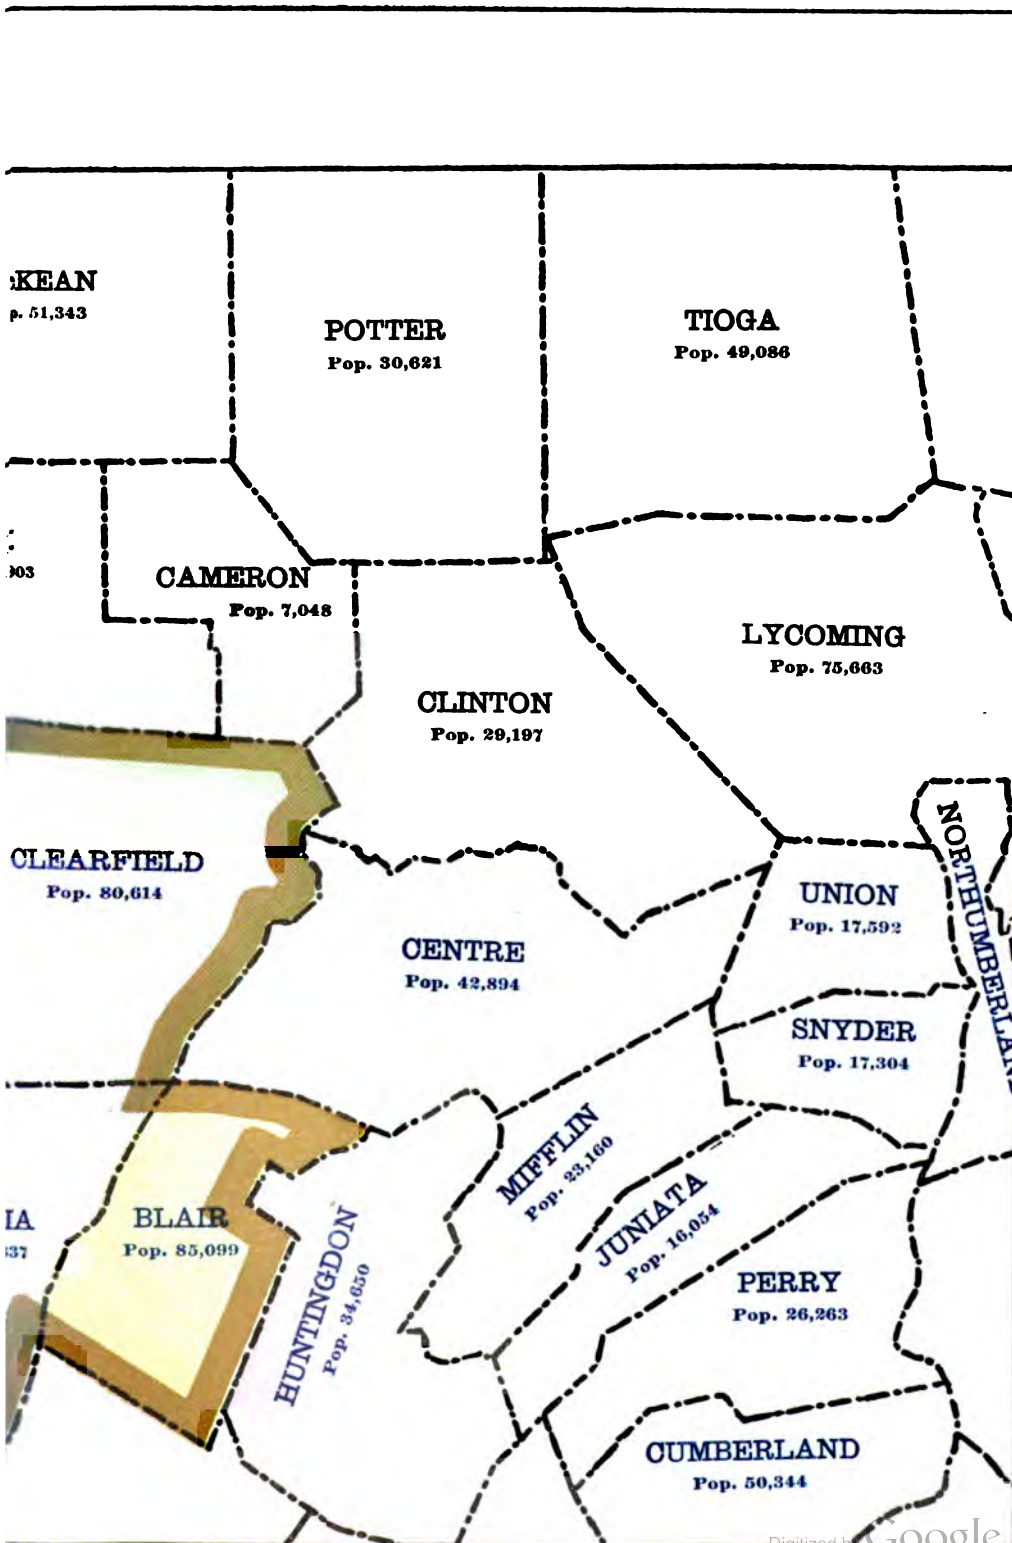

It is often necessary for the Inspector to suggest changes that the law does not contemplate and its framers could not possibly anticipate.

It is gratifying to note the change that has come over many of the employers in this respect. The time was when if a matter was not clearly expressed in the law, advantage would be taken of its absence. Now the majority of employers are willing to follow the suggestions of the Inspector, even though they may have a doubt as to their legality, but so long as the necessity of the change is made clear, and its moral effect an advantage to them, they are willing to comply. However, it would be better if it were possible, to have all matters so clear that doubt would exist in the mind of no one. There have been fifty-eight (58) accidents in this district the past year, of which twelve (12) were fatal, seventeen (17) serious, and nineteen (19) less serious. I have investigated nine (9) of them. Considering that this is a large district and has some of the largest and most dangerous works in the State, the number of accidents is comparatively small. The works have all been running to their fullest capacity. Many of them night and day. Crowded conditions and night work have been responsible for the increased number of accidents, yet by increasing facilities and greater care we hope the number of accidents can be greatly reduced.

I had ten (10) illiterate children dismissed who had been employed during the months of school vacation.

I hope the time may soon come when the age limit of children working in factories will be raised above that of the present.

SEVENTEENTH INSPECTION DISTRICT.

SEVENTEENTH INSPECTION DISTRICT.

M. N. BAKER, Inspector.

Corry, Pa., November 1, 1900.

Mr. James Campbell, Factory Inspector:

Dear Sir: The great increase in the number of factories, and the number of employes has made the work of the Inspector much greater than in any former year.

It has been impossible for me to cover my district this year, partly from sickness and also from the increased work in every locality in my district. I can report a good compliance with the Factory Laws, and an increased interest in said laws by all concerned.

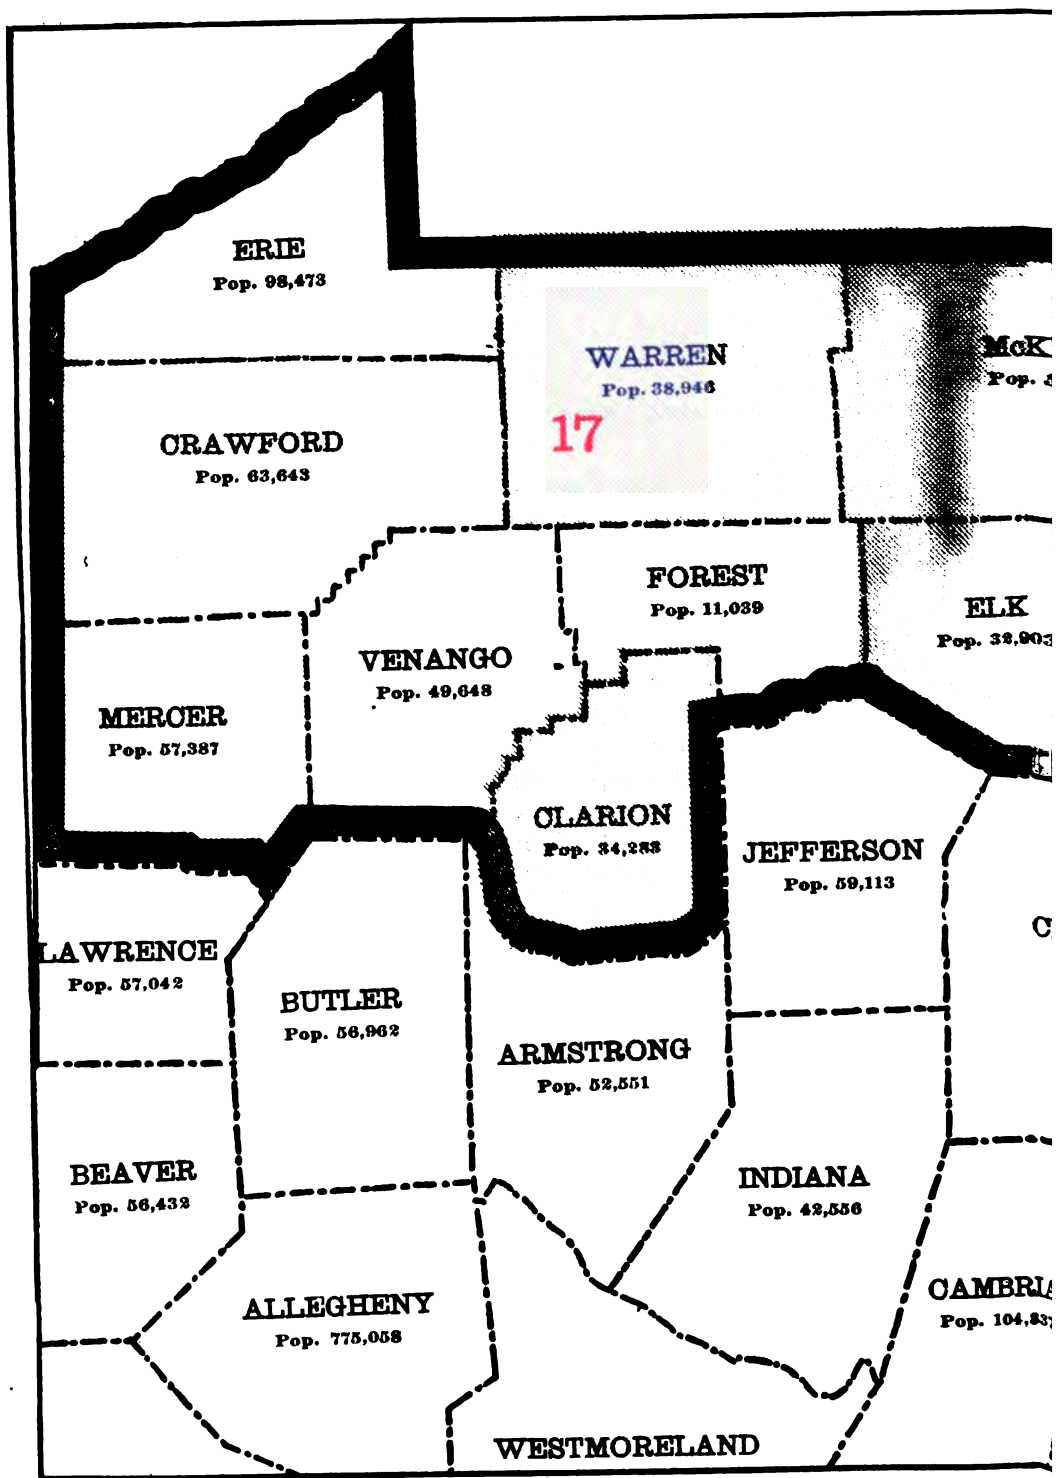

There is a necessity for legislation to extend the fire escape law to hotels, tenement houses, public buildings and school houses and place the enforcement of such law in this Department.

The question of sanitation in school rooms also seems to me most important. As a rule the floors and wood work of school houses are washed once a year. That sort of sanitation needs no comment to condemn it.

EIGHTEENTH INSPECTION DISTRICT.

---

EIGHTEENTH INSPECTION DISTRICT.

---

---

Allegheny, Pa., November 1, 1900.

Mr. James Campbell, Factory Inspector, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: In compliance with your request I respectfully submit the following report of work for the inspection year ending October 31, 1900.

My work in this district for the past year has exceeded that done in former years on account of the increase in manufacturies and the increase of employes in old ones.

It seems to be a pleasure for our manufacturers to help along the Factory Inspector in the performance of his duties. Often when an order is given to guard dangerous machinery they will say: "We are glad you came for we didn't see the danger until you called our attention to it, we will comply with your order immediately."

I would suggest that chains of cranes and hoists be annealed at least once a year. When in constant use they crystalize and become brittle, often causing serious injury to persons and machinery. By annealing they are brought back to their former strength.

I have made fourteen hundred and twenty-eight (1,428) regular inspections, seventy-six (76) visits, gave ten hundred and seventy-seven (1,077) orders for guarding machinery and the bettering of sanitary arrangements. All of the orders with the exception of twelve (12) have been complied with.

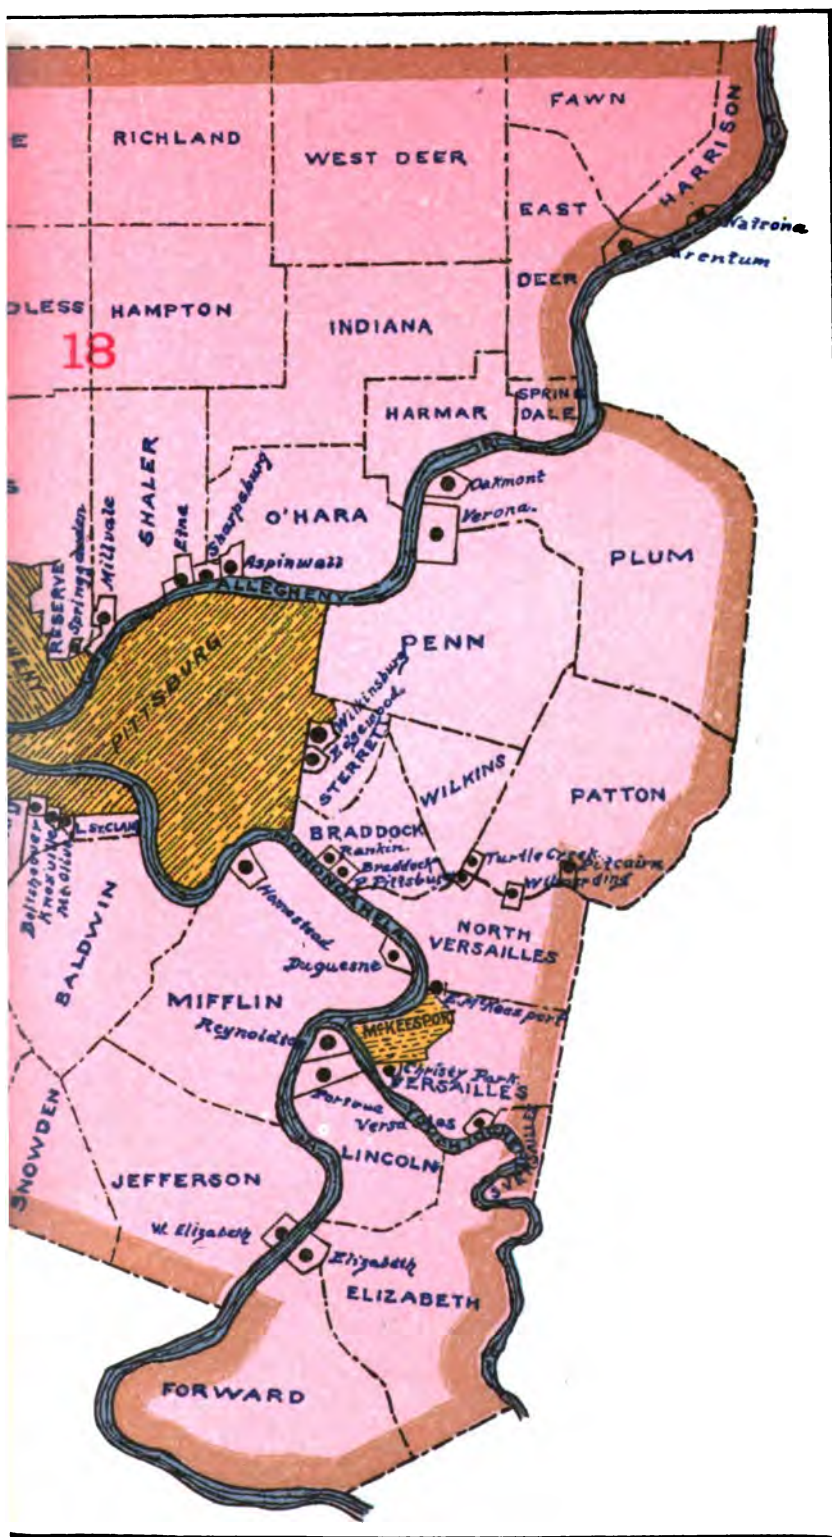

This district now resembles a bee hive, work is plenty, and many orders are refused by our factories on account of being unable to fill them.

I trust that the prosperity we now enjoy will continue.
